

KILOHANA ART LEAGUE TABLEAUX

Rehearsals Show That the Entertainment Will Be of High Class.

The Kilohana Art League's tableaux this evening at Progress hall will furnish an entertainment which promises to be unique and full of interest.

The stage is set with a background scene from a Persian garden, painted by Theodore Wores, and the wings are covered with palm leaves. A screen of black gauze softens the light which falls upon the pictures from two great clusters of lights with high reflectors. To add to the tropical beauty masses of blossoms will encircle the proscenium arch.

The dress rehearsal Saturday night showed the tableaux are perfectly placed and the young ladies have entered into the spirit of the affair, which insures success. Mrs. Annis Montague Turner will sing during the intervals, as will others. Everyone is certain to be pleased with the entertainment.

HILO'S FOURTH WELL PLANNED

There Will Be Many Events For the Two Days.

The Fourth of July celebration at Hilo promises to be the best ever yet attempted. There will be a parade and meeting, with the oration by Thomas Fitch.

The sports will include all the usual track and field events, and the racing promises to be of the very highest class. All the horses are in good form and in addition to those seen here, Defender is thought to be in shape to make the favorites hustle.

On Saturday, July 5th, there will be fine racing also, the Del Vista-Weller match being the second race of the day. Others events will make that as good as the first day's going.

There will be special events for the entertainment of visitors, such as receptions and balls.

KINNEY-SLY WEDDING.

Ceremony Celebrated at Ewa in the Presence of Many Friends

The marriage of Mr. William A. Kinney and Miss Maud Sly took place at the home of Mrs. A. C. McKeever at Ewa Plantation, Saturday evening last, at 8:30 o'clock, the Rev. E. S. Muckley of the Christian church officiating.

The bride was attended by Miss Eva Howell as bridesmaid, while Mr. A. M. McKeever acted as groomsmen. The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of white net with lace insertion over white silk, cut en train, and wore a veil. Her bouquet was of white carnations and maidenhair fern. Miss Howell wore white Persian lawn and carried pink carnations.

Miss Anna Gardner rendered the Lohengrin wedding march on the piano as the bridal party entered the room, during the ceremony "Oh Promise Me," and while the young couple were receiving congratulations, the Mendelssohn wedding march.

Mr. Kinney has been an employee of Ewa Plantation for a number of years, while his bride is recently from Rockford, Ill. Many guests from Honolulu were in attendance, in addition to the leading citizens of Ewa. The young couple will divide their honeymoon between the Moana hotel and Waialua Ranch, and will reside permanently at Ewa.

The monthly recital given by the pupils of Mr. Cook's music school last Saturday evening was an event in musical circles. The students showed rare skill and technique, and the recitations—all selections being from the masters—were exceptionally brilliant. The audience, which crowded the hall to almost overflowing, showed in the prolonged applause their appreciation.

The Kamalo Sugar Company case was up before Judge Humphreys Saturday upon an application for a writ of execution against the three defendants for the balance of the judgment not yet paid. Hustace, who has paid his share of the judgment, asked for a stay of execution, which was granted as to all three defendants for one week. The writ will issue at the close of that period. Objections are made also by the defendants to some of the items in the bill of costs.

Marston Campbell Returns.

Marston Campbell, Assistant Superintendent of Public Works, returned Saturday from a brief official visit to Hilo. He said yesterday that the laying of the water mains has been about two-thirds completed, and the macadamizing is also rapidly progressing. A report was received by him from the bridge gang in the Hamakua district, saying that all of the bridges but two of those washed out in the recent storm had been replaced. The work is being held back by bad weather now.

The repairs on the government dock have also been completed and the wharf is in better condition than ever. Over 100 new piles were driven and the footing was raised. Engineer Campbell was well pleased with the progress of the government work in and about Hilo.
